

Sherry Meith:

Vegetative Propagation of Plants

Sherry has 40 years experience in the fields of environmental chemistry and worker health and safety. Now retired in Sequim, she tends over 200 grapevines and many raised beds of veggies. Education: BS Biology at Portland State University, MA Botany at University of California, Berkeley